walls and surfaces are adorned with large-scale artworks by South African artists such as Cecil Skotnes, J.H. Pierneef, Walter Meyer, William Kentridge and Walter Battis. The tasteful décor and interior design is a seamless extension of the architecture, which is itself a veneration of the awe-inspiring landscape, creating a harmonious symphony of light, space and texture that encourages supreme relaxation and enjoyment.

With your decision to stay in Grootbos Forest Lodge you contribute to the sustainable development. Donations and revenues from tourism are invested into important development projects. If you are interested you can gain an insight into the holistic activities of Grootbos on sight.
