This extraordinary and very exclusive two-story Aether Deluxe Villa is located on the grounds of the Anassa Hotel above a sandy beach and is considered as the ultimate Mediterranean retreat. It is a three-bedroom residence, designed by the Parisian designer Joelle Pléot. The highlight of this luxury domicile is certainly the large pool and the terrace, from which you have a spectacular view of the bay of Chrysochou. The large private terrace offers also a dining table and king-size day beds. On request, the pool can be heated. The spacious living room is decorated in a unique style with bespoke handcrafted furniture. Additional features include a complimentary fully stocked bar, Bluray DVD player, a private fax printer and an entertainment system with ipod connectivity. All bedrooms have their own balcony with stunning views. The villa can accommodate up to 9 guests if extra beds are requested.

Aether in Greek mythology was the father of Ouranos, the god of the sky. While Aether was the peration of the upper air, Ouranos was literally the sky itself. Aether was also the purest air which the gods breathed, as opposed to the normal air breathed by mortals. The gods also lived in the Aether, above the clouds.

While enjoying the privacy of the Aether Deluxe Villa, guests have the possibility to also dine in one of four restaurants belonging to the hotel. In the open-air pool restaurant fresh fish and herbs from the hotels own garden is served. For the body and mind, the Thalasso spa area offers soothing massages, Thalasso treatments or cosmetic treatments.
