With this noble hotel, the SON BUNYOLA project comes to its crowning conclusion after many years. The hotel will retain all the original features of the historic estate and consists of the main finca, which dates back to the year 1500, the Tafona, which hosts the historic olive press, and several adjoining buildings. Son Bunyola is the centre of the over 400-hectare estate, which also includes the lavish luxury villas of Sa Punta de S'Aguila, Sa Terra Rotja and Son Balagueret. The three villas are available for exclusive rentals. The hotel has 26 stunning rooms and suites, two restaurants, spa treatment rooms and a pool terrace with breathtaking sea views. Driving down the winding way to the hotel from the main road with spectacular views gives you an idea of the spaciousness of the estate. The rooms and suites have been furnished with fine furniture. High-quality mattresses, fine fittings and elaborately finished wooden or stoneware floors emphasise the dignified ambience. In combination with the excellent and always friendly service, you will find a true holiday paradise.
