This holiday home lies directly above the village of Positano in a lovely position with a superb view, and from the garden and from the terraces you can take in the whole coast as far as the promontory at Praiano, and below you can see the centre of Positano and the beach. The special atmosphere and particular warmth of this property mean that few people really want to leave it to go down to the beach, even though it's only 15 minutes away on foot. There's nothing new to say about Positano, and it goes without saying that it is one of the most fascinating places in the world, where both during the day and at night-time you can go through wonderful experiences that you are unlikely to find elsewhere. You reach the vacation villa on foot up an attractive little alley-way of about 200 metres. From the entrance gate, passing through the garden, you come to the main part of the house, and carrying on along the garden terrace you come to the second part of the house, which is completely independent. On the terrace below there is a private swimming-pool for guests use, that has been furnished and equipped with great care. Every angle of the fenced garden is like a perfect water-colour of a beautiful view. Villa Oliviero is furnished in modern style with some rustic details.
